

Who makes lithium batteries in Buenos Aires?

Buenos Aires -- Last week, Argentina's President Alberto Fernándeß visited the first Argentine lithium cells and batteries manufacturing plant belonging to Y-TEC, a company that is part of state-owned energy giant YPF, and which will produce its first pilot models of lithium batteries in December, after taking delivery of components in October.

Why is Argentina launching a lithium battery plant?

A testament to this forward-thinking approach is the imminent launch of its premier lithium battery plant. This venture, realized in partnership with the U.S.-based Livent Corp, underscores Argentina's ambition to be a comprehensive player in the global lithium ecosystem.

Is YPF lithium launching a lithium battery project in Argentina?

The battery project is linked to another, more ambitious one, that of YPF Lithium, YPF's business unit that intends to compete in the exploration and production of lithium carbonate in northern Argentina.

Will a new Lithium Project churn out in Argentina?

Four new projects will finally begin to churn out lithium in the weeks and months ahead, according to a yet-to-be released federal government time-line seen by Bloomberg News. That will almost double production capacity in Argentina, whose growth potential has long lured the attention of battery makers around the world.

Does Argentina have a future beyond just extracting raw lithium?

Argentina envisions a future beyond just extracting raw lithium. With a focus on adding value at every step, the country is rapidly advancing in lithium processing and manufacturing sectors. A testament to this forward-thinking approach is the imminent launch of its premier lithium battery plant.

Is Argentina a potential leader in lithium production in 2027?

Amidst this global trend, Argentina is emerging as a potential leader. Experts predict that by 2027, it will surpass established producers like Chile and Australia. Argentina's lithium reserves, concentrated in the provinces of Catamarca, Salta, and Jujuy, are part of the renowned 'lithium triangle'.
