

How does the private sector provide energy and digital services in Madagascar?

With the exception of the national electricity company JIRAMA, energy and digital services in Madagascar are provided by the private sector. Low population densities and high poverty levels in most of the underserved areas make it impossible for the private sector to deliver these services on a purely commercial basis.

Why should Madagascar invest in energy & telecommunications?

" Access to energy and telecommunications are top priorities for our government. This project is fully aligned with our vision for the development of Madagascar. It will allow a significant increase in our access to energy and digital services," said Andry Rajoelina, President of Madagascar.

How will Madagascar's new telecommunications project impact the world?

The project will also enable 3,400,000 new internet users and connect some 2,000 health centers and schools to renewable energy and digital services. " Access to energy and telecommunications are top priorities for our government. This project is fully aligned with our vision for the development of Madagascar.

Will Madagascar double its electricity access?

This support will be transformational for small business as well as for the individual households and citizens and will put Madagascar on the path to double its electricity access," said Marie-Chantal Uwanyiligira, World Bank Country Manager for Madagascar.

How can The GoM lift Madagascar out of poverty?

Access to energy is a cornerstone of the GOM's efforts to lift Madagascar out of poverty. The objective is to double energy production within 5 years, increase access to electricity for at least 70 percent of the population by 2030, improve reliability of supply, and reduce energy prices.

Why is the World Bank supporting the development of Madagascar?

This project is fully aligned with our vision for the development of Madagascar.
