

Why is Malaysia launching a Bess project?

The inaugural development of public BESS project in Malaysia is part of the Government's efforts to support the energy transition and achieve the goals of increasing the country's installed renewable energy capacity to 70% and to achieve net-zero by 2050.

Where is a Bess substation located in Ulaanbaatar?

Through power system analysis, the Songino substation, situated approximately 30 kilometers west of Ulaanbaatar city center, was identified as the optimal location for maximizing the impact of BESS applications. This choice is justified by Ulaanbaatar being the system's largest demand center and its proximity to major wind farms.

Should foreign players participate in Bess projects in Malaysia?

Nevertheless, given that the development of BESS projects in Malaysia is still at an early stage, participation of foreign players with experiences in energy storage system projects may be crucial to support and encourage further projects of the same nature to be developed in the Malaysia energy market in the future.

Is Bess the beginning of a significant step taken by Malaysia?

This may be the beginning of a significant step taken by Malaysia in achieving such goals given that BESS is labelled as one of the unproven markets in the National Energy Transition Roadmap published by the Ministry of Economy.

What is a Bess project?

In the Mongolia project, the objective of the BESS is to support the connection of more variable renewable energy to the entire central energy system, which covers over 90% of Mongolia's energy demand, including that of Ulaanbaatar.

Who owns the Bess in Mongolia?

In Mongolia, where the BESS plays a crucial role in maintaining power supply reliability due to the growing number of variable renewable energy connections to the grid, a decision was made for the state-owned transmission company, the National Power Transmission Grid, to own and operate the first grid-connected BESS.
