It is always better to buy a home with a fully-owned solar panel system. But you may end up paying a premium on the home price. Unless the lease terms are arbitrary and unreasonable, there is nothing wrong with buying a home with leased solar panels. This allows you to enjoy the benefits of solar energy without paying a premium price for the same.

The cost of a solar panel installation varies by location, property type, and, of course, the panels used for the installation. Premium solar panel products with high efficiencies and advantageous warranties usually cost more money upfront but can offer higher potential long-term savings.
