

What is the scheme for leasing rooftops with photovoltaic panels

What is a solar panel rent-a-roof scheme?

The Rent-a-Roof scheme lets people who can't otherwise afford solar panels gain access to them, through installers who will setup solar panels on roofs for reduced prices. Installers can then sell any excess electricity generated back to the grid.

Can you get free solar panels on a roof?

Companies offered to pay to lease your roof from you for 20-25 years and, in exchange, would install and maintain solar PV panels on it. You didn't have to pay upfront for the panels, and would also benefit from the free electricity produced by the system. But there are very few free solar panel schemes available now.

How many homes have a rent-a-roof solar panel scheme?

While the Feed-in Tariff was in effect, more than 900,000 homes in the UK had solar panels installed - so we can estimate that around 27,000 households signed up for a rent-a-roof scheme. What were the problems with rent-a-roof solar panel schemes?

How do rent-a-roof solar panels work?

Rent-a-roof solar panel schemes required homeowners to give a solar company the rights to their rooftop or the airspace above it for up to 25 years. That company would then install rooftop solar panels for free, in return for receiving the household's Feed-in Tariff payments.

How do free solar panel schemes work?

'Free' solar panel schemes, also known as rent-a-roof schemes, used to be commonplace a few years ago. These were run by companies eager to cash in on the feed-in tariff (FIT). This guarantees payment in return for electricity generated using renewable technologies, including solar power.

Are rent-a-roof solar panels free?

Rent-a-roof schemes provided free solar panels to households all over the UK during the 2010s - but there were plenty of strings attached. They stand in contrast with current-day solar subscription services like Sunsave Plus, which allow you to retain control of your roof, your solar panel system, and your future.
